One day between the Lip and the Heart A wordless strife arose, Which was expertest in the art His purpose to disclose. The Lip called forth the vassal Tongue, And made him vouch--a lie! The slave his servile anthem sung, And brav'd the listening sky. The Heart to speak in vain essay'd, Nor could his purpose reach-- His will nor voice nor tongue obeyed, His silence was his speech. Mark thou their difference, child of earth! While each performs his part, Not all the lip can speak is worth The silence of the heart. WRITTEN IN AN ALBUM. In days of yore, the poet's pen From wing of bird was plundered; Perhaps of goose, but, now and then, From Jove's own eagle sundered. But now metallic pens disclose Alone the poet's numbers In...
