LETTER No. I. Newport, > July 15, 1856. S My Dear: May I have an occasional corner in your virtuous sheet to tell the world what is going on at this delightful place ? If you print this, I shall go ahead and give you more of the same sort. If I draw largely on adjectives and superlatives, you must make due allowance for a young girl s enthusiasm who is just out --who sees the sea for the first time; and to whom a watering place and watering-place ways are novelties. Speaking of the old blue sea, which everybody has read of, reminds me of a shockingly severe conundrum proposed to us yesterday. A certain New-York editor, with whose name I dare not take liberties, was sitting in the carriage with us, quietly looking at the merry, motley group of bathers, when he .gravely asked, why a plunge in the surf was like suicide ? Because it was a feel o de sea! I threatened to report him, and I have done it. But I want to express my delight at everything and everybody here; and I dont know where to begin or stop. There are not as many nice beaux here as I expected to find; but they tell me it is hardly time for them yet. They say the season will open about the middle of this week, with the first hop. There is a school...
