Excerpt: . . . JESUS AND THE RESURRECTION. ISAGREEABLE subject, said a friend, on reading the preceding article on Sinful Flesh. Disagreeable truths lie on the threshold of the house wherein are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. The unsearchable riches of Christ can neither be discovered nor attained until we have passed the Rubicon which divides the life of self from life in God. But not only does it appear that the filthiness of the flesh is a disagreeable subject; the doctrine of the resurrection, as taught in the Scriptures, also finds little favour with men. Not only were the Sadducees (who say there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit) grieved that the apostles taught through Jesus the resurrection from the dead; but as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, the rulers of the people and elders of Israel, straitly...
