One night after this there were a dozen shots fired through the open door of my house about midnight. As the last shot was fired I walked to the door in my night-clothes but the shooters dodged behind the hazel-thicket, and nobody was hurt. Until that time I carried no firearms and kept none in the house, although it was rumored and believed by many that I had secreted a lot of government arms in or near my house. A few days after the shooting I was in Shelbyville, when an old friend and captain in the army, who was home on a furlough, persuaded me to take home a six-shooter belonging to him, remarking that it was a duty that I owed my friends to use it in self-defence, if attacked. It was loaded and I carried it home and practised...
